

PARIS AWAKENS FROM ITS DULL SUMMER SLEEP

Thousands Soon Will Be Coming Back From Watery Places for Autumn Gaeties.

AVIATION WORLD IS STIRRED

Bonnett's Safety Device Successfully Tested; Mary Garden's "Loss of Voice."

Paris, August 23.—Seldom if ever has this city been so dull—so almost dead—as during the past week.

Life seemed to have deserted Paris, the boys were empty and the alle-ments of stores had lost their power.
Now slowly but surely the town is waking from its summer sleep; another week will bring back many thousands, and once again the streets and cafes will be thronged.

Deauville's season is now waning fast. It has been most prosperous for the rich monopolist who runs the chief hotels. Anna Held and Lillian Russell, who in private life is Mrs. Moore, could tell some interesting stories of prices paid at Deauville.

Thirty-seven francs ($7.40) for four cups of coffee and four rolls was charged Anna Held at one hotel, and $9 to 100 or even 120 francs a traverse was asked for the moderate-sized rooms. The race and gambling tables flourished like the proverbial green bay tree. On the night of the Grand Prix de Deauville, the "Cagnotte" represented that profits of the Casino management were over 150,000 francs ($31,000).

Success of Aviation Device.
The aviation world is deeply interested in the experiments made lately with the Bonnett parachute. It is hoped that by this new device the apalling loss of life by aviation accidents may be diminished. The French military authorities, however, are only half convinced by the successful test of the parachute the other day at Chateaufort.

All inventors do not have a rosy time with French authorities. M.
Ulliv might convince us of this truth.
Not long ago, it seems, the Ministry of Marine sent expert delegates to Havre to test the power of the Ulliv explosive rays.

On boarding the yacht, Lady Hen-riette, which the inventor used as his workshop, they are said to have handed him some metal cans supposed to contain gunpowder, which they invited him to blow up by means of the rays.
Suspecting a trap, M. Ulliv and his backer, M. Mayen, opened the cans, which, they found, were empty. The delegates were promptly sent ashore, and now are sneering at the invention.

It is reported that Miss Garden's alleged loss of voice may last much longer than seemed likely at the time of her late breakdown during the rehearsals of "The Jewels of the Madonna" here.

Miss Garden was in Scotland when I telephoned to her Paris apartment, but the announcement that she and Dalmores will be replaced in the approaching production of "Wolf Fer-raris" opera, by a new company, named Vally, and by the tenor, Cagnola, appears to confirm current stories.

Jean Richepin's translation, or new version, of "Machet" will be produced next season at the Theatre Francaise.

Hugo Statue for Guernsey.
The heroic statue, Victor Hugo, which adorned the recent Salon of French artists, is to be sent to Guernsey as a gift of the French government. It shows the poet posing on a mass of rock, and is hewn of granite.

Martin Littleton, who defended Harry Thaw, will pass some days in London before sailing for New York, after three months' stay in Europe.

Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt made a brief stay in Paris this week, before departing for Carlsbad, to recuperate from the recent fatigues of the festival at Deauville. Many of Mr. Vanderbilt's horses, now at Deauville, are coughing badly, and the Vanderbilt colors are not likely to be seen at the Dieppe races.

Follon—Elmore.

Heathsville, Va., August 23.—Miss Gertrude Elmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Octavius Elmore, of Heathsville, and Clarence V. Follon, of Miskimew, were married this morning at the Methodist parsonage, in Heathsville, by Rev. J. Elmer Hoan.

Brann—Hammack.
Miss Virgie Hammack and Howard T. Brann, both of Village, this county, were married last evening at the Warsaw House, in Warsaw, by Rev. R.
S. Litsinger.

News of Petersburg

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
5 Bollingbrook Street, (Phone 1485), Petersburg, Va., August 23.

The Board of Aldermen and Common Council have been called to meet in joint session on Monday night, for the purpose of electing a successor to the late Mayor George Cameron, Jr.
While, at times, the names of a number of good and capable citizens have been discussed among the people for the office, it may be mentioned that no one has announced himself a candidate. The situation is prescribed in this case of the office seeking the man, and not the man seeking the office.
While there is no exact information on the subject, it is believed that but two names will be presented to the joint meeting on Monday night—those of Robert Cabanis and Robert E. Gill.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Unmarried Baker Cuts His Throat
With a Razor.

J. A. Madera, aged about thirty years and unmarried, a baker by trade, attempted to end his life this morning at his home on Rome Street by cutting his throat with a razor. An ugly gash, requiring six stitches to close, was inflicted across the front of the throat, but, fortunately, neither the windpipe nor the large blood vessels were injured. The young man was taken to the hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Powell. He was subsequently moved to the city jail, where a committal was held, and he was adjudged insane and ordered committed to the Williamsburg Hospital.
He was clearly out of his mind when he attempted to end his life. Last night he imagined that people were after him, and he shot several times out of his window. Madera is familiarly known in the community as "Baker Brown." He was adopted by the family of the late R. A. Brown, who was for years head baker at the Central State Hospital.

GASOLINE FOR STEAM.

N. & W. May Substitute These Cars on City Point Branch.

President L. E. Johnson, of the Norfolk and Western Railway, accompanied by General Manager Needer and Division Superintendent Blake, spent several hours at City Point yesterday, and inspected the big dynamite plant of the Du Ponts, just below the Point, on which work is being rushed. In a business way, this plant is expected to be of great benefit to City Point and Petersburg.

It is rumored that in order to facilitate the increases, business on the City Point branch of the Norfolk and Western Railway, the company is planning to substitute gasoline motor cars for steam engines on that branch.
Cars of this type have been used with success on other roads.

Personal and Otherwise.

The Rev. Walker McS. Buchanan, Presbyterian missionary to Japan, accompanied by his children, is visiting his brother, John McS. Buchanan, in this city. Mr. Buchanan has been in Japan for eight years, and this is his second visit to his Virginia home during that period.

Thomas Frisbie, a white youth, was arrested this afternoon on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $29 from the store of W. U. Reese, on Washington Street. He confessed the theft, and most of the money was recovered.

Abner F. Willis, aged forty-nine years, died last night at his home on Commerce Street. He was formerly of North Carolina, and had no relatives in Petersburg.

Governor Mann has pardoned Frank Lilly, confined in the jail of this city, on a misdemeanor charge. He had served out one-half of his sentence.
Bishop Randolph is expected to visit and administer confirmation at several of the Episcopal Churches in Amelia County to-morrow and Monday.

No intoxicating liquors are to be sold on the grounds of the Southside Farm, Virginia Fair, October 14-17, entries for the fair, especially in the racing department, are already being made.
A meeting of the Home and Foreign Missionary Society, of Market Street M. E. Church, will be held in the women's parlor at the church Monday afternoon. Much business is to be considered.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt

London, August 23.—There is no American woman who received more attention from the rulers of Europe than young Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, whose husband was partially cut off in his father's will because the elder Vanderbilt was displeased with his son's marriage. But even since the visit of Prince Henry, brother of the Kaiser, to America, at which time he was entertained but once in a private home, Mrs. Vanderbilt being his hostess on that occasion, the American woman has moved from one social triumph to another. During the recent week at Cannes she and her husband were much in evidence. They were entertained by King George and Queen Mary on the royal yacht Albert and Victoria, who always delighted in a visit with the Vanderbilts.

The latter attended the regatta on their yacht, the North Star. Mr.
Vanderbilt was so delighted with the regatta that he proposes to build a large schooner to take part in the English races next year.

TROUSERS ATTAIN FIRST CENTENARY

Celebration Suggested of Great Event That Helped to Advance Civilization.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) London, August 23.—If the centenary of any event that helped to advance civilization should be celebrated, why should not the 100th anniversary of the introduction of trousers into England, or, if you please, the introduction of Englishmen's legs into trousers, be so dignified?

Just 100 years ago Englishmen began to wear trousers; before that every man clad himself in knee breeches or what is nowadays called "knickerbockers." This is almost equally true in America, where, however, many persons are prone to speak of trousers as "breeches" or "pantalons" and even to abbreviate "pantalons" to ignominious "pants." Everybody in America knows it would be an absurd anachronism to picture George Washington in trousers.

The word "trousers," when it first appeared in the English language, was used to denote the nether garments of the ancient Irish, "trews." It is, perhaps, significant that in the early part of the nineteenth century women and girls wore garments reaching to the ankles called trousers. Some militant suffragettes, it seems, wish to revive that fashion now and "wear the trousers."

Beau Brummell was one of the first to wear trousers. They were skin tight and buttoned at the ankle. But even to-day trousers are not recognized as a perfectly correct part of gentleman's evening dress at many courts. Knee breeches are regarded as much more aristocratic.

Only a few weeks ago the abbot of the Monastery of St. Michael, in the Caucasus, refused to supply the monks with trousers, deeming them "only a luxury."

is alleged to have crept up behind her as she was passing through a strip of woods on the way from her home to a neighbor's Gantz sprang from a clump of bushes and a fierce scuffle ensued. The girl lost some valuable jewelry. She proved herself a match for Gantz and resisted him.

He admitted to officers this afternoon that he touched Miss Carlie, but meant no harm. Citizens of the neighborhood are greatly incensed over the attack. Gantz is locked in a steel cage.

FATE OF ALBANIA

IS PROBLEM THAT WORRIES EUROPE

Archbishop of Scutari Declares
It Is Most Delicate Task Confronting Powers.

BY CAMILLO CIANFARRA.
Rome, August 23.—Monsignor James Seregi, the Albanian Archbishop of Scutari, was a recent visitor at the Vatican, where he was received by the Holy Father and Cardinal Del Val, the Papal Secretary of State, to whom he made a full detailed report on existing conditions in the newly-born state of Albania.

Later, in a talk with the New York American, a representative of the archbishop said the world must not entertain glowing hopes as to the future of Albania, as it will be years before his unhappy country can enjoy the blessings of peace and order.

According to the archbishop, the organization of the new state will be one of the hardest problems with which modern civilization can be confronted.
Whether the great powers will succeed or not in restoring peace to that troubled country and in organizing it in a way that will prevent internal discord depends wholly on the spirit with which they undertake the extremely delicate task.

As Helpless as Children.
"Albania, or rather the territory within the borders fixed for the new nation by the ambassadors' conference in London," Archbishop Seregi said, "can be compared to a group of children with whom their tender mother must deal according to their needs, their age and mental development."

"Will the nations most directly interested in the future of Albania set aside their aspirations for economical and political expansion and confine their efforts to insuring the welfare of the country?"

The archbishop refused to give his views on the surrender of Scutari to the Montenegrins, saying history would in due time reveal many facts of which the world is still ignorant.

Scutari a Mass of Ruins.

"The old Scutari," he said, "is now a wilderness of dilapidated buildings and black ruins. The marks of the long siege will be visible for years to come, and some of them are indelible. The cathedral was hit by forty shells from siege guns of large calibre.
"To-day the destruction of men, women and children, impoverished by the last days of Ottoman rule, roams through the ruins, helpless from months of suffering."

WHY FOOL YOUR MONEY AWAY?

People Spending Money For Relief, Found a Cure in Quaker Herb Extract and Oil of Balm.

Here is a report of Mr. J. E. Taylor, who resides at 146 Bank Street, Norfolk, Va.: By occupation a painter and decorator; has been a sufferer with kidney trouble for the past eight years; would have to get up at night six or eight times to void urine, which caused a smarting, burning sensation; back lame, sore and stiff, especially in the morning; at times so bad he could not work; has been losing flesh, growing weaker; at times felt desperate, for during all these long years he has spent his money for temporary relief. Pills, cataplasters, salves, oils—all of which have been only a relief, some not even that. He called at the drug store where the marvelous cures of stomach would bloat, belching, lump of lead feeling in pit of stomach, palpitation of heart, shortness of breath, dizziness, a headache, no appetite, losing flesh. For the past three years has taken enough medicine to fill a barrel, but nothing ever gave much relief. He started using Quaker Herb Extract, and to-day reports a wonderful improvement—in fact, he has got relieved of all that debilitated, despondent feeling, and says Quaker Herb Extract is the only medicine that has ever reached his case.

Quaker Herb Extract, $5.00 for six bottles, three for $2.50, or $1.00 per bottle. Oil of Balm, 50c. Call today at Tragle's Drug Store, 817 East Broad Street, for these wonderful
